

Stephan Carignan
Training Officer
Paramedic Education
Winnipeg Fire Paramedic Service (WFPS)

Stephan Carignan is a dedicated Training Officer of Paramedic Education with the Winnipeg Fire Paramedic Service (WFPS), where he has proudly served for over 25 years. With a strong foundation as a Primary Care Paramedic and later as a nationally certified Advanced Care Paramedic, Stephan brings a wealth of frontline experience to his current role. For nearly five years, he has been instrumental in the EMS Training Branch, helping to lead the education and ongoing development of more than 600 licensed paramedics across various training levels.

Stephan is deeply committed to safety and professional development within the paramedic and firefighter communities. He holds a portfolio that includes Threat Management Instructor and played a role in developing and delivering a comprehensive course designed to address the growing concern of violence against emergency responders. His efforts have helped train over 1100 frontline members and all new recruits entering the WFPS Academy.

In addition to his instructional duties, Stephan actively contributes to multiple internal committees focused on safety, policy development, equipment evaluation, and leadership growth. His passion for creating a safer, more resilient workforce continues to shape the future of emergency services in Winnipeg.
